GERMANS ADMIT EVACUATION OF TAGANROG

Surprise Retreat Indicates Southern Front Crumbling

With Fall of Important Sea of Azov Port to Victoriously Onrushing Red Army, Capture of Stalino Is Expected to Follow

WHOLE RIGHT FLANK OF ENEMY IS COMPROMISED

By HENRY B. JAMESON

London, Aug. 30.—(AP)—Premier Josef Stalin announced the capture of Taganrog, southern anchor of the 1,500-mile Russian front, today in a special order of the day. The Germans earlier today admitted evacuation of the city.

Stalin said the capture was the result of a fierce engagement in which the Russians routed the Germans. The Germans said the town was evacuated after they had destroyed the town and harbor installations.

Capture of the southern flank of the Russian front indicated the Nazis' entire southern front positions were crumbling.

Stalin, whose order of the day was broadcast, said the new victory was achieved as a result of a bold maneuver by Soviet cavalry and mechanized formations which broke through to the rear of the enemy troops.

With the fall of this important Sea of Azov port to the victoriously onrushing Red army, the capture of Stalino, Hitler's southern front headquarters 70 miles to the northwest, may follow soon.

Taganrog, said the Germans in their daily high command communique, was "evacuated according to plan" after being "completely destroyed." It was another of the so-called "strategic withdrawals" which German propagandists have been at pains to color as Nazi triumphs.

The fall of Taganrog came as a surprise, since there had been no reports of heavy fighting in this region recently from either Moscow or Berlin, but the position of the city had been obviously imperiled since the Russians captured the railway station of Donetsk-Amvrosievka just a week ago, cutting Taganrog's only rail line to the north and west. Donetsk-Amvrosievka is 40 miles north of Taganrog.

Evacuation of Taganrog makes it clear that the whole right flank of the German army is compromised and indicates that a general pulling back, started with the Soviet offensive in the Donets Basin a few days ago, has been stepped up.

Taganrog had been heavily fortified by the Germans, and its recapture by the Russians indicates the power of the current Red army drive. Last winter's Soviet offensive which began with the victory at Stalingrad, swept on past Rostov in this region but stopped short just east and north of Taganrog in the face of a violent Nazi defense of the city.

There was no immediate indication whether the Germans would attempt to stand a few miles west of Taganrog on the west bank of the Mius river, or withdraw some 60 miles farther to the west to Mariupol.

The Berlin radio said the Russians had suffered heavy losses, mainly through minefields left by the retreating Germans in the Taganrog area.

Taganrog, a city with a normal population of 70,000 had been in German hands since the early summer of 1942.

The Soviet communique today indicated that fast-moving Soviet columns south and west of Kharkov are threatening 800,000 Nazi troops in the Donets Basin salient with possible encirclement.

Hard-driving Russian troops advanced 3 to 7 1/2 miles to recapture 50 villages, including the railroad junction of Lyubotin, 25 miles west of Kharkov on the Kursk-Kiev line, the war bulletin announced.

Tentative Order Lifting Ban Sept. 1 Sent to Field Offices

Washington, Aug. 30.—(AP)—A tentative order to lift the ban on eastern pleasure driving Wednesday has been sent to field offices of the Office of Price Administration (OPA).

The order has no official status yet, although OPA has given every indication that it was working to free eastern motorists of the no-pleasure driving restriction either by Sept. 1, or next week-end.

Friday, however, OPA announced it would remove restrictions from east coast pleasure boating and would give service men full-fledged gasoline, an indication that the pleasure driving ban was on the way out.

The tentative order lifting it Wednesday was sent to field offices so they could be ready for

School Staff is Decreased By Enlistment of Teachers

Miss Kathryn Martin is Joining WACS; Miss Grosch The Red Cross

ENROLLMENTS START

Enlistment for active duty in the country's services of two Warren borough school teachers has further decreased the instructors' staff and provided additional matters to be taken up at the postponed September meeting of the board of instruction. Because the first Monday of the month is Labor Day, this meeting has been rescheduled for Tuesday evening, September 7, one day prior to the opening of the borough schools for the fall term.

Teachers leaving are Miss Kathryn Martin and Miss Frances Grosch. Miss Martin, who has been auditorium and speech teacher at the Beauty building for the past seven years, has been granted a military leave following her acceptance for the Woman's Army Corps, with Ft. Oglethorpe, Ga., as her first assignment. Her teaching position will be filled temporarily through transfer on the Beauty staff, Miss Grosch, who has been on the Home street faculty for some years, is granted leave to take up training and duties as was announced.

Heavy Allied air attacks lashed out again at the enemy, with Flying Fortresses, destroying three jeties and 20 barges at Voco Point near Lae, 10 miles east of Salamaua. Medium Mitchells on Saturday wrecked a 2,000-ton ship, a patrol boat and 31 barges and luggers in a raid on Hansa Bay, halfway between Wewak and Madang on New Guinea's northeast coast.

In Burma, RAF planes sank up to 60 loaded sampans in the Irrawaddy and Hunters Bay areas and inflicted other damage on shipping and railway targets and barracks in the lower Irrawaddy and Kalamy districts, returning without loss.

A warning of great new aerial attacks was given the Japanese by (Turn to Page Seven)

Good Suggestion For Securing Apartment

Waynesboro, Aug. 30.—(AP)—An army sergeant and his wife, after days of apartment hunting, inserted the following advertisement in the Record Herald: "Thoroughly undesirable couple wants three or four room furnished apartment with private entrance and bath. Will not take care of furnishing nor be in the least congenial with neighbors. Inclination to pay rent very doubtful."

The Record-Herald is anxious to see if the ad "pulls."

Erie Officer Meets Death Mysteriously

Investigation Is Pressed Into Shooting of Patrolman Paul W. Howell

WAITRESS QUESTIONED

Erie, Aug. 30.—(AP)—District Attorney Burton R. Laub reported today the fatal shooting of Patrolman Paul W. Howell, 39, early Sunday appeared "likely" to have been accidental, but that he was continuing an investigation. Detective Captain Roy B. Mong said the policeman had been slain with a bullet from his own service revolver, a short time after he left a social club to drive a married waitress to her home.

The captain quoted the waitress as saying Howell stopped his car and complained he was "too tired" to drive further. Mong said she told him she switched seats with Howell, offered him a cigarette, which he refused, and that the gun was fired while she was smoking.

Dr. E. L. Armstrong, pathologist told the district attorney from the upward course of the bullet, Howell apparently had held the gun in his lap and that it must have been discharged by the policeman. Paraffin tests were being studied to determine whether Howell the waitress, or her husband had fired the weapon, Laub said.

An inquest will be held on Wednesday, the date of the funeral.

Howell was the father of three children. He had been on the police force for six years and was president of the local Fraternal Order of Police Lodge.

TARGETS OVER TOE OF ITALY ARE ATTACKED

Railway Center of Orte, North of Naples, Is Visited For First Time During War

OPPOSITION IS SLIGHT

BY NOLAN NORGAAARD
Allied Headquarters in North Africa, Aug. 30.—(AP)—Flying Fortresses struck at Orte, railway center 40 miles north of Rome, for the first time, and medium bombers delivered heavy new blows at vital rail targets at Torre Annunziata on the bay of Naples yesterday in the methodical daily destruction of the Italian communications system.

At the same time light and medium bombers, divebombers and fighters ranged far and wide over the toe of Italy, laying waste the enemy's gun positions and rail and road links and encountering only slight opposition in the area already reported nearly deserted.

After the heavy pounding by American B-26 Marauders, Torre Annunziata railway yards again were smashed last night by RAF and Canadian Wellingtons.

Twenty enemy planes were destroyed in the day and night operations, 17 of them shot down by bombers and a fighter escort in the raids on Orte and Torre Annunziata. Three Allied planes are missing, said an Allied headquarters communique.

Sunday's far-reaching air attacks followed a bombardment of an enemy artillery battery on the Calabrian coast near Cape Pelicciolo Saturday afternoon by a British cruiser and destroyer. The return fire of the coastal batteries was ineffective, said an Allied naval announcement.

British Boston and Baltimore Bombers and American B-25 Mitchells and P-40 Warhawks participated in the concerted attacks on the Italian toe, hitting gun positions near Reggio Calabria and San Giovanni the eastern shore of Messina Straits, railway junctions at Cosenza and freight yards at La Mezia. A-56 Invaders also scored a direct hit on a temporary bridge over the Angitola river.

The Marauders rained bombs on a large concentration of boxcars in the Torre Annunziata freight yards south of Vesuvius, causing a large explosion and many fires.

The most determined enemy opposition of the day was encountered by the Marauders when about 50 enemy fighters attacked them. The Fortresses, which employed their customary high-level precision bombing tactics at Orte, had scant trouble with enemy fighters.

Murder of WAC in Hotel is Unsolved

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 30.—(AP)—Army officers said today that the 22-year-old WAC corporal who was found slain in a downtown hotel, her throat, arms and wrists cut and her body only half clothed, had been murdered, but they gave no hint of being close to a solution of the mystery.

The blood-stained body of Corp. Maoma L. Ridings, attractive divorcee and member of a prominent Warm Springs, Ga., family, was found in a seventh floor room at the Claypool Hotel Saturday night, three hours after she had rented the room. She had been stationed at Camp Atterbury, 25 miles south of here, since March.

Over Score Dead in Alabama Blasts

Birmingham, Ala., Aug. 30.—(AP)—Twenty-one dead were counted today from the two gas explosions which late Saturday and early Sunday tore through the Republic Steel Corporation's No. 2 Sayreton coal mine here.

Twenty-three others were burned, several of them critically. Among the dead were four mine officials who headed rescue parties which entered the mine after the first blast.

Anti-Axis Leader Dominates Five-Member Regency to Rule For Young King of Bulgaria

Istanbul, Aug. 30.—(AP)—Bulgaria, unsettled by the death of King Boris, presented a potential problem to Adolf Hitler today as Premier Bogdan Philov strove to reconcile conflicting elements in the nation which made his position none too secure.

The five-member regency which, according to German broadcasts, will rule in behalf of the boy King Simeon II, apparently is dominated by an anti-German, pro-British church leader—the metropolitan of Sofia, Stefan, who has protested against Gestapo activity in Bulgaria and against anti-Semitic laws passed during the last two years.

The Queen Mother Ioanna, second member of the regency, also is regarded as decidedly anti-German. Prince Kyril, brother of the late king, and Philov are both pro-German, but far from strong, while the fifth regent is a politically unknown supreme court justice.

Composed by such diverse elements, it seems highly unlikely that this regency will be able to prevent the orphaned Philov government from collapsing and being replaced with a military cabinet.

In that event the leader of the government probably would be selected from the military hierarchy which is enthusiastically pro-German.

The possibility of a popular uprising which would overthrow the monarchy and establish a Republican or Socialist government under the sway of Russia—upon whom the Bulgarians have traditionally looked as a friend—was not entirely discounted here.

However, such a revolt was considered possible only if the Germans are unable to send sufficiently strong forces into Bulgaria or to the borders to keep the situation in hand.

In any event the situation apparently will demand close watching by Adolf Hitler.

According to one report reaching here, Boris spent his last hours in a talk with Philov in which the king was said to have tried to give the prime minister guidance for the critical days which now apparently are at hand for Bulgaria.

President Is Back At Desk In Washington

Chief Executive Schedules Appointments With Many Officials

Washington, Aug. 30.—(AP)—President Roosevelt returned to Washington today and, as a direct follow-up to the Quebec war conference, scheduled appointments with diplomatic, state and military officials.

Prime Minister Winston Churchill is expected here within a week to pick up some of the loose threads of the Quebec meeting. There was reason to believe that this forthcoming meeting would center mostly on political aspects of the war and on a post-war program.

Mr. Roosevelt, after delivering an address in Ottawa, Canada, Wednesday spent a few days resting before returning to Washington.

Prospects for a tri-partite meeting among representatives of the United States, Great Britain and Russia, mentioned as a possibility in the joint Quebec communique, may receive their attention, as well as political questions involved in administering temporary governments of liberated nations.

Mr. Churchill, who remained in Canada after the Quebec conferences ended last Tuesday, will deliver a radio address tomorrow at 1 p. m. It has not been announced when he would reach Washington.

For Mr. Roosevelt, the new week embraces conferences on many domestic questions as well. Congressional leaders will soon be arriving for the Sept. 14 reconvening and the legislative program will need canvassing.

Major personnel shifts are pending, too, with first official word awaited on the reported resignation of Sumner Welles as under-secretary of state, and a successor, and the possible appointment of Justice Samuel I. Rosenman of the New York supreme court to a full-time administration job.

HUNDREDS OF NAZIS SLAIN DURING RIOTS

Big Fires Blaze Fiercely Among Scuttled Hulks Of Ships In the Harbor

CABINET IS INTERNEED

BULLETIN
New York, Aug. 30.—(AP)—The British Broadcasting Corp. said today that several hundred German soldiers "are said to have been killed in clashes with Danish troops." CBS recorded the broadcast.

By JOHN H. COLBURN
Stockholm, Aug. 30.—(AP)—Big fires blazed fiercely today among the scuttled hulks of Denmark's naval vessels in Copenhagen harbor, as offshore Nazi patrol boats and planes shot at Danish fleeing a new German military dictator, ship clamped upon the rebellious kingdom.

Refugees streaming into Sweden said scores of persons drowned as the Nazi gunners sank many small motorboats, sailboats and fishing boats in the Oeresund, the narrow stretch of water between Denmark and Sweden.

The Germans ignored the usual Copenhagen blackout during the night. Street lights blazed brightly as patrols in tanks and armored cars toured the city enforcing the martial law decreed by the German military commander who had interned the aged King Christian X in his castle and set up Nazi rule to replace that of the resigned Danish government.

Nine naval ships, two of them small destroyers, reached safety in Swedish ports yesterday. Another torpedo boat arrived at Landskrona last night, raising to 16 the number now docked in Sweden.

One of the latest reports reaching Sweden said members of the cabinet, including Prime Minister Eric Scavenius, were in internment with King Christian at Sorgenfri Castle.

The cabinet conferred with the king until the early hours Sunday before Gen. Hermann von Hanneken, German commander in Denmark, issued his proclamation announcing Nazi martial law.

The king, who will be 73 next month, threatened to abdicate if the cabinet accepted a drastic ultimatum submitted by German Minister Werner Best on Saturday.

The cabinet's flat rejection of the demands signalled the end of Danish collaboration and the smashing of the German effort to establish Denmark as a showcase model for other occupied countries.

The Danish people received little information of the swift movement of events in their country, as no newspapers had been published for two days.

Danish laws will be revised along Nazi lines, in addition to "a new arrangement of the public life of Denmark," the Von Hanneken announcement said. It added that loyal civil servants would be retained.

U. S. Bombers Set A New High For Operations

London, Aug. 30.—(AP)—The U. S. Eighth Air Force knocked down a record 307 enemy fighters in the two-day assault on Regensburg and Schaeffelt, Germany, on Aug. 17, but suffered a loss of 59 Flying Fortresses, a new high for American operations in this theater, according to headquarters compilations.

In the companion attack on the Regensburg Messerschmitt factory, the Fortress force which went on to North Africa in a shuttle operation lost 23 planes and shot down 140 of the enemy's interceptors.

The previous record for enemy planes shot down by the Americans in a day's operation was 87. This score was made on June 11 in the raid on Wilhelmshaven. Although 59 Fortresses were lost on Aug. 17 an unknown number of the crewmen escaped with their lives.

Gasoline Sets Fire to Garage At Stoneham

Workmen engaged in the repair of one of the large tank trucks of the William Crockett Company, Stoneham about 12 o'clock this morning accidentally set fire to the gas tank on the motor and for a time the fire looked serious. It got into the celutux ceiling and burned quite briskly.

An alarm was sent to the Clarendon Fire Department and Chief Charles McNett with both trucks of the Clarendon Department responded to the alarm. Short work was made of the blaze once the firemen were on the job and the main loss was caused by tearing the celutux from off the ceiling of the garage. It is estimated that the loss will be about $75.

The Clarendon Department made a quick run to the scene and their pumper truck did good service.

Obituary

MRS. WILLIAM COLE
Mrs. Betty Cole, wife of Cpl. William Cole who is now in England, died at the Warren General Hospital Saturday afternoon at 2:55 o'clock following an illness of two months. She was born near Tidoute October 8, 1905. Besides her husband she is survived by her mother, Mrs. Louise J. Cochener, Warren; a sister, Mrs. Edwin Swanson, Warren; and two brothers, Emil Cochener, Corning, N. Y., and Harold Cochener, Frewsburg, N. Y.

She was a member of St. Mark's church in Buffalo, N. Y., and funeral services will be held at nine o'clock Tuesday morning from St. Joseph's church here, followed by interment in St. Joseph's cemetery. Friends may call at the Peterson Funeral Home and the rosary will be recited there at eight o'clock this evening.

TERENCE B. YOUNG
Terence B. Young, chief mechanic of the Ridgway Fire Department, and former chief of the organization, died suddenly Saturday morning at 8:30 o'clock in the Central Fire Station on Alleghurst avenue. Death resulted from a cerebral hemorrhage. Mr. Young, better known as "Nips" would have been 61 years of age September 21st.

Mr. Young had been conversing with friends in front of the fire station at 8 o'clock Saturday morning and at 9:15 o'clock he was found lying on the floor by Alphonse DeStefano, of Alleghurst avenue, who was taking his grandson to see the fire apparatus. It is believed Mr. Young was stricken while sweeping the floor.

He was well known in Ridgway and vicinity and has a host of friends who are saddened by his sudden demise.

Surviving are two sisters and two brothers: George Young and Mrs. T. L. Jones, of Warren, Pa.; Miss Stella Young and Grover C. Young, Ridgway.

MAGDALENA LAUFENBURGER
Funeral services in memory of Mrs. Magdalena Laufengruber, 441 Prospect street, were held at the Peterson Funeral Home at two o'clock Sunday afternoon, conducted by Dr. H. A. Rinard, First Lutheran minister.

During the service, Mrs. William E. Yeager and Miss Mabel Hill sang two hymns, "My Jesus As Thou Wilt" and "Rock of Ages." The following grandsons acted as bearers for interment in Oakland cemetery: Paul, Miner, Robert, Ward, Edward and Alfred Laufengruber.

FRED M. BETTIS
Fred M. Bettis, aged 76, former Warren resident, passed away at the home of his son in Dewittville this morning. He was born in Corry.

He is survived by his wife, Sarah; two daughters, Mrs. Edna Endress and Mrs. Dorothy Wolfe, of Bradford; two sons, Myron M. Bettis and Donald E. Bettis, of Dewittville; two sisters, Gertrude A. Bettis and Mrs. Harriet Cooper, of Oakmont; one brother, Frank Bettis, of Edgewood Park, N. J.; four grandchildren.

Removal was made to the Lutz Funeral Home, and the time of the service will be announced tomorrow.

Thanks a Lot---For Life

"It feels good to be alive when you should be dead. I know. The reason I'm alive is just a pint of somebody's blood. I don't know who gave it. Maybe you did. Whoever it was, thanks. Thanks for my life."

Thus many a fighting man might speak today, because many a civilian back home realizes that the most glorious help he can give to a fighting man is also one of the easiest to give. It is a pint of blood. And somewhere, months later, a man will return to his home where he never would have come again except for you.

Port Allegany Pastor Comes To This City

Work of the annual United Brethren Conference held at Findley Lake came to a close yesterday and the delegates scattered to their homes. The Rev. S. Paul Weaver was named Superintendent of the Conference and the appointments for the Youngsville District are as follows:

District leader: Rev. H. Ray Norris; Bear Lake, Rev. Byron Berry; Chandlersville, F. E. Donelson; Corry, Rev. H. R. Harris; Grand Valley, Rev. Lee W. McLaughlin; Warren, Rev. R. H. Eggleston and Youngsville, Rev. C. M. McIntyre.

The Rev. Eggleston, who comes to Warren, has served for the past ten years in Port Allegany. Rev. Ethan B. Leslie, who has been pastor of the Warren church goes to West Branch.

The Rev. O. E. Williams has been chosen as Evangelist at large by the conference.

PAINTING BRIDGE
Employees of the P. R. R. are engaged in painting the upper railroad bridge of the river division of the railroad. Work was started last week and the men worked until dark before stopping.

HAPPY REUNION
Mr. and Mrs. Boone J. Greenlund, of Toledo, O., and Benjamin Greenlund, of Newport News, Va., are here to visit at the home of their brother H. L. Greenlund, Hazel street, their first meeting in 25 years.

BIG BOMBERS PASS
Sunday morning at an early hour several large bombers passed over the city and in the morning haze could be seen by observers. Later in the day another big plane flew over the city.

CHILD INJURED
Stephen Lindquest, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Lindquest, of Clarendon, was given emergency treatment at Warren General Hospital about 3:30 p. m. Sunday for injuries received when he fell from a swing and fractured his left arm.

PREPARING SECOND PIER
Another job of pouring concrete will soon be under way by employees of the Osborne Company, Franklin, which has the job of repairing the piers of the Hickory street bridge. Frame work is being placed about the first pier and the riprap is in place ready to be covered with concrete.

TO PLAN CARNIVAL
All men of North Warren are asked to attend the first fall meeting of the North Warren Civic Club, to be held at eight o'clock this evening in the community house for the purpose of discussing plans for the annual Halloween Carnival. The committee will provide lunch after the meeting.

PERMITS ISSUED
Register and Recorder O. E. Loper has issued marriage licenses to Paul Eugene Groves, of Sugar Grove and Phyllis Jean Ryan, of Lander; and to Sherman Ralph Van Pelt, of Pittsburgh, and Garnet Mayola Nuhfer, of Warren.

INVITED TO CEREMONY
Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McClellan, of Pottsville, have received an invitation to attend the placing of the U. S. S. Lee Fox in commission. The ceremony will take place at Hingham, Mass., and the new vessel is named for Ensign Lee Fox, who lost his life at Pearl Harbor. The son of Mr. and Mrs. McClellan, Edward, is a fireman on the new ship.

GAS BAN EFFECT
One of the effects of the gas ban is to be noted at the local cemeteries where cut flowers on graves are few and far between. Prior to the gas ban hundreds of bouquets of fresh cut flowers were to be seen but yesterday they were few and far between. On many lots and urns of flowers placed for Memorial Day were still to be seen and most of them are blooming nicely. The caretakers are deserving of comment for the fine condition of the cemeteries as the grass is carefully mowed and shrubs trimmed.

HIGH FALUTIN' SQUASH
Dave Levitt, 842 Schanz street, believes in conservation and to that end is raising a mess of the finest squash to be seen in the city. Dave has but little space for a Victory Garden so planted squash seed and the vines grew up the side of a building and out upon a trellis between two other buildings. On the vines are some beautiful squash of good size and quality. Dave claims the squash are just about the best in town and that they are growing high where they get all the sunshine and air possible so should have a flavor that just can't be beaten.

LOANS TO FARMERS
Farmers in this section whose feed crops have been reduced because of the drought may obtain loans up to $400 for the purchase of feed for livestock. It is reported by Field Supervisor I. J. Heald of the emergency crop and feed loan office at Butler, Pa., "Loans for the purchase of feed," he said, "may be obtained immediately in amounts up to $400, depending on the borrower's requirements, at four percent interest, and second by a chattel mortgage on the livestock to be fed. Repayment is to be made from the sale of livestock but not later than August 31 of next year." Livestock growers and dairymen in this county desiring financial assistance for the purchase of feed may communicate with Field Supervisor Neenan by writing Box 464, Butler, Pa.

Tanker Is Burned When Deer Is Struck

Damage estimated at around $9,000 resulted from a fire that destroyed a large tanker truck on Route 62, about a mile north of Tionesta, early Saturday morning after the machine had struck a deer, run up an embankment and rolled over.

According to members of the state police from the Clarion barracks who investigated the accident the truck, loaded with cleaning fluid, was en route south at the time. After hitting the deer, the machine swerved to an embankment on the left side of the highway and rolled over, later catching fire. The accident occurred between 5 and 6 a. m. Saturday.

John Cashmere, of Sheffield, operator of the machine, was taken to the Warren General Hospital, suffering from shock and a slight abrasion of one hand. He was discharged from the hospital Sunday afternoon.

The unit is owned by William F. Crossett of Warren, according to the police. The machine was righted Sunday morning and driven to the Crossett company's garage at Stoneham.

District Game Protector C. E. Benson of Tionesta was called to the scene and took charge of the carcass of the deer.

Another job of pouring concrete will soon be under way by employees of the Osborne Company, Franklin, which has the job of repairing the piers of the Hickory street bridge. Frame work is being placed about the first pier and the riprap is in place ready to be covered with concrete.

TO PLAN CARNIVAL
All men of North Warren are asked to attend the first fall meeting of the North Warren Civic Club, to be held at eight o'clock this evening in the community house for the purpose of discussing plans for the annual Halloween Carnival. The committee will provide lunch after the meeting.

PERMITS ISSUED
Register and Recorder O. E. Loper has issued marriage licenses to Paul Eugene Groves, of Sugar Grove and Phyllis Jean Ryan, of Lander; and to Sherman Ralph Van Pelt, of Pittsburgh, and Garnet Mayola Nuhfer, of Warren.

INVITED TO CEREMONY
Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McClellan, of Pottsville, have received an invitation to attend the placing of the U. S. S. Lee Fox in commission. The ceremony will take place at Hingham, Mass., and the new vessel is named for Ensign Lee Fox, who lost his life at Pearl Harbor. The son of Mr. and Mrs. McClellan, Edward, is a fireman on the new ship.

GAS BAN EFFECT
One of the effects of the gas ban is to be noted at the local cemeteries where cut flowers on graves are few and far between. Prior to the gas ban hundreds of bouquets of fresh cut flowers were to be seen but yesterday they were few and far between. On many lots and urns of flowers placed for Memorial Day were still to be seen and most of them are blooming nicely. The caretakers are deserving of comment for the fine condition of the cemeteries as the grass is carefully mowed and shrubs trimmed.

HIGH FALUTIN' SQUASH
Dave Levitt, 842 Schanz street, believes in conservation and to that end is raising a mess of the finest squash to be seen in the city. Dave has but little space for a Victory Garden so planted squash seed and the vines grew up the side of a building and out upon a trellis between two other buildings. On the vines are some beautiful squash of good size and quality. Dave claims the squash are just about the best in town and that they are growing high where they get all the sunshine and air possible so should have a flavor that just can't be beaten.

LOANS TO FARMERS
Farmers in this section whose feed crops have been reduced because of the drought may obtain loans up to $400 for the purchase of feed for livestock. It is reported by Field Supervisor I. J. Heald of the emergency crop and feed loan office at Butler, Pa., "Loans for the purchase of feed," he said, "may be obtained immediately in amounts up to $400, depending on the borrower's requirements, at four percent interest, and second by a chattel mortgage on the livestock to be fed. Repayment is to be made from the sale of livestock but not later than August 31 of next year." Livestock growers and dairymen in this county desiring financial assistance for the purchase of feed may communicate with Field Supervisor Neenan by writing Box 464, Butler, Pa.

HIGH SCHOOL GIRL IS WINNER OF DOUBLES

Philadelphia, Aug. 30.—(A.P.)—Winning the National Junior Girl Tennis tournament wasn't enough of a day's work for 18-year-old Doris Hart.

After trimming Dorothy Head of Alameda, Calif., 6-3, 6-3, for the singles title at the Philadelphia Cricket Club yesterday, and doing it in 33 minutes, the slender June graduate of a Miami, Fla., high school took a partner and annexed the doubles title.

With 16-year-old Shirley Fry of Akron, O., she defeated Betty Rosenquest of South Orange, N. J., and Lillian Lopus of New York, 6-4, 10-8 rallying from 2-5 in the second set.

Compliment Is Given To Chap. Rogers

A letter received by Mrs. Edward K. Rogers, East street, from Brig-Gen. F. U. Greer, recently returned from North Africa to Gainesville, Fla., highly commends her husband, Chaplain Rogers, and is a fine tribute to a fellow officer.

He writes: "When I last saw your husband in North Africa, he was cheerful and well, but just like the rest of us had lost a little weight. He had just finished a tour of a great many hospitals, looking after the welfare of the wounded men in his regiment."

Mrs. Rogers, your husband is certainly doing a wonderful job over there. Always with the troops in the front lines, he has been a great help to the officers and men, especially when the going was the hardest. His talks to them have been so fine that other commanders asked that he deliver them to their men. For my part, I would like to tell you that Chaplain Rogers is a real patriotic man, a splendid preacher, and about the finest chaplain that I have had the honor to serve with.

"May God protect him and return him to you so that he may carry on the great work he is now doing."

Chaplain Rogers, on military leave from his duties as pastor of First Lutheran church here, was accepted for overseas duty only four weeks after his induction at Indiantown Gap, went with his men through the North Africa campaign and stayed with his men in the front line action in Sicily.

It will interest many friends in town to know that he was the subject recently of a very fine article which appeared in the Record-Argus, published in Greenville, where he went of Thiel College before seminary days and home town of Mrs. Rogers.

CORAL PRESERVES PRAYERS

An English prayer book that sank with a British warship off the coast of Florida 246 years ago was still legible when brought to the surface recently. Mother Nature had protected it with a covering of coral.

THE LONG NIGHT

By Eleanor Atterbury

Chapter 13
DURING the next several hours, Bette's amazement continued to grow. So thoughtful was she with the old woman's stolid silence, the girl's typically Indian garb, was the Porter household.

Bette, when supper was ready, had visions of unsavory dried fish, of some strange, unpalatable mess.

To her amazement, the trout, served with a kind of wild rice was excellent, and there was a fine California burgundy on the table served in exquisite, thin-stemmed glassware. Bette had the impulse to rub her eyes.

During the meal, served entirely by Paul's sister and entirely in silence, Paul himself conducted the conversation. He spoke knowingly and well of world conditions, of leading American figures, finally of comparative excellences of California and French wines. She might have enjoyed the discussion at some smart banquet back home, she realized. And all this in the mountain fastness of a remote Alaskan island. Still, she assured herself, she was not dreaming.

Throughout the entire evening, her hosts' courtesy was unflagging. Deaf to her protests, they insisted she occupy the cabin's single bedroom although she knew it meant the two women would sleep on the piles of skin drawn close to the fireplace. This tiny rough-walled room, she discovered, was furnished conventionally as any summer cabin. A rough-hewn bedstead, a hand-made chest, two raw-hide chairs, a beautiful hand-woven Indian rug on the floor.

SOMEDAY, she thought later, she tried to relax and nerves and invite sleep, she'd like to know more about the strange Porters.

It was bright daylight when she awoke. She lay for several minutes trying to think where she was, what had happened. As memory of yesterday's strange experience flooded back, she came from bed, scrambled into her clothes. She felt for her little pistol.

But—and she searched again, unbelieving—the pistol was gone.

She couldn't have lost it on the way. Her thoughts winged

Chapter 14
THE second day's routine proved to be exactly a duplicate of the first. An early start, Paul Porter's solemn assurance that today he would locate Captain Scott MacQuaid without doubt, the return at sundown to the log cabin. At the end of the third performance, Bette realized she was virtually a prisoner.

"I simply must get back to the Post," she said that third evening. "I have given up hope of finding him now. Perhaps,"—she clutched at a straw,—"perhaps he has even returned to the Post himself by now."

Paul Porter nodded, smiled that bland, unfathomable smile. "Perhaps it would be better."

Bette's courage raised its head. "Then you'll show me the trail down into the valley tomorrow?"

He bowed courteously. "It will be a pleasure."

But while they started off in what seemed to Bette the right direction the next morning, the late afternoon found them back at the cabin again.

"I am sorry, I must have taken the wrong turning," Paul Porter apologized easily when Bette stepped past him on the trail, stood staring helplessly, hopelessly at that familiar log cabin. Now that her worst fears were confirmed, she felt despair reach to the depths of her being.

Almost at the end of her endurance, she stumbled along the trail across the narrow mountain meadow, her wits dulled with fatigue, with disappointment, with defeat. Why had he gone through this farce of tramping through these woods now after hours? How much simpler to have locked her in a room.

If he'd merely been trying to wear down her resistance, he had very nearly succeeded, she told herself a little later as she flung herself, exhausted, across the bed in the guest room at the cabin. She let hot tears drench the pillow. When she was rested a little, she'd think of a plan.

SHE slept then, dreamlessly. She didn't know what it was that awakened her long after dark. But suddenly she was wide awake, staring into the darkback over every step of the trail. She remembered having it when she saw the grizzly. Suddenly, she remembered having it when she went to bed the night before. She'd even considered putting it under her pillow, she recalled now, and had discarded the idea. Let her forget to take the gun again in the morning.

Slowly she considered the implications. Not lost, not misled, it must have been stolen. But by whom? As she lay asleep? But why would anyone want the gun? Unless perhaps the girl had simply taken a fancy to it.

No. Whoever had taken that gun, had wanted her unnamed. That was obvious. Bette sat down suddenly on the edge of the bed, her knees trembling with new fright. What did it all mean?

GATHERING courage, she finally achieved a smile, pushed open the door to the cabin's main living room. Paul Porter looked up from a rifle he was cleaning, smiled courteously. "Good morning, Miss Stuart. Did you sleep well?"

Bette returned the smile. "So well that I am afraid I have kept you waiting. Tell me how long you think it will take us to reach Captain MacQuaid?"

His eyes met hers steadily. "Not long. Your breakfast is ready."

"More than an hour or so?" she persisted.

Again that serene, smiling courtesy. "Not very long, I assure you. Please, won't you sit down."

Bette slipped into the chair at the table. "But you say I must be back at the Post today. Otherwise they will be here."

He stated, decided against making her reason sound more than casual. "—short-handed. Perhaps, if you could take the message to him that—"

But again, that baffling, quiet assurance. "It is not far, I assure you."

As if she were hemmed on all sides by impenetrable but unseen barriers, Bette tried persistently for the next half-hour to find her way out. But even mention of the "lost" pistol only confused her more.

"I know I had it when I arrived last evening," she said and tried to see if any change came over the stolid Hanna's face as ness, every muscle taut. As if some intuition, never sleeping, had put her on guard. Almost instantly, she was aware that someone was in the room.

When she thought surely the scream she held back would strangle her, she saw the beam of a small flash-light play across the foot of the bed, move toward her face. Controlling every muscle at supreme cost, she closed her eyes, breathed deeply, slowly, feigning sleep.

Only when she heard the door close almost noiselessly did she open her eyes. Then she lay several moments, her ears strained to hear sounds in the next room, her heart pounding thunderously. At first, when she heard the outer door close, she thought her strange visitor must have gone outside. But in a moment she detected the soft murmur of voices, carefully lowered. Men's voices.

Paul Porter's, whom she recognized at once, and a strange, high-pitched voice.

Christmas Shopping Season Is Here for Men and Women In Armed Forces of the U. S.

The Christmas shopping season is here—even though the weather is still warm.

Mailing of gifts for Army and Navy personnel overseas must begin by September 15, if many of the men and women in our armed services are not to be disappointed, and September 15 is less than a month away.

Christmas gifts may be mailed by parcel post to Army men and women overseas only between September 15 and October 15. After the latter date, such parcels may not be mailed unless a written request from the soldier for the article is presented with each parcel. No soldier should have to ask for a Christmas gift; so gifts must be mailed on time. The Navy also urges that gifts be mailed between September 15 and October 15.

Reasons for the early mailing dates are: The vast distances that the parcels must travel to reach our men at war fronts and stations the world over; frequent transfers of thousands of men from one location to another, which means forwarding of the mail and necessitates giving preference to reinforcements, arms, munitions, medicine and food in allotment of shipping space, which often means that the shipments of gifts must wait. And it is most urgent that gifts be delivered to the men IN TIME FOR CHRISTMAS, to keep their spirit high.

The only way to insure against disappointment for the fighting men is to buy at once and mail early—mail your gifts as soon as possible after the September 15 starting date.

Those who have relatives or friends in the service should remember that we have fighting men in Alaska, Greenland, Iceland, England, Sicily, far-separated regions of Africa, the Near Eastern countries, Australia, many of the South Pacific islands, India, China, South America, and other areas.

Mail of all kinds is vital to the spirit of fighting men. Every officer who has inspected our Army and Navy postal facilities overseas has reported that thousands of fighting men disregard mess call when it conflicts with mail call, and get their letters first.

A disconsolate soldier or sailor who thinks he has been forgotten at Christmas obviously is not at his best. So the gifts MUST be mailed on time so that they can arrive on time.

Rules for Christmas mailings to the fighting forces overseas were made public in June for the guidance of early shoppers. They include:

The parcel must not exceed five pounds, and must not be more than 15 inches in length and 36 inches in length and girth combined. It should be marked "Christmas parcel" so that it may be given special attention to assure its arrival before December 25.

Not more than one parcel may be mailed in any one week to the same member of the armed forces by or in behalf of the same mailer.

The parcel must be well and strongly packed in a container of wood, strong fiber board or similar material, then wrapped in strong paper and tied with twine. The cover should be such that it can be opened readily for censorship. The contents should be packed tightly.

Perishable goods, such as fruits that may spoil, are prohibited. Inflammable, toxic materials, such as matches or lighter fluids, poisons, and anything that may damage other mail also are prohibited. Gifts enclosed in glass should be substantially packed to avoid breakage. Sharp instruments, such as razors and knives, must have their edges and points protected so that they cannot cut through the coverings and injure postal personnel or damage other packages.

Since the armed forces are being plentifully supplied with food and clothing, the Army and Navy recommend against these as gifts. Addresses must be written clearly and completely. In addition to the return address of the sender, a parcel for an Army man should show the name, rank, Army serial number, branch of service, organization, Army post office number, and name of post office through which the parcel is routed. A typical address for an Army man:

Private John R. Doe (Army serial number)
Company F, 167th Infantry
A. P. O. 810, c/o Postmaster
New York, N. Y.

The address on a parcel for a Navy man should include the name and rank or rating of the addressee, the Naval unit to which he is assigned and the Navy number assigned thereto, or the name of his ship, and the fleet post office through which the parcel is routed. A typical Navy address: John M. Jones, Seaman first class.

U. S. Navy
Naval Air Station
Navy 199 (one nine nine)
c/o Fleet Post Office
San Francisco, Calif.

or:
Lieutenant Roger W. Doe, U. S. Navy
U. S. S. Minnesota
c/o Fleet Post Office
San Francisco, Calif.

SALVAGE REMINDERS

OLD PAPER BOXES
Allied bombers, smashing submarines in the North Atlantic, are being equipped with ammunition and supplies delivered in Victory containers, made from used paper boxes, bags, heavy wrapping paper and all forms of waste paper. Due to the shortage of wood pulp, waste paper is now used as a substitute in the manufacture of essential war equipment. Flatten out boxes, attack newspapers, magazines and loose waste basket paper into neat bundles. To sell your salvage, or give it to charitable or other organizations, call a collector at 3048.

This honor roll contains pictures of all the boys from Pittsfield township in service, as well as their names, and is a worthy undertaking for the girls' organization.

Old Dobbin Drew Attention Of Excitable Folk On Sunday

One good burgher's scheme to ride his horse into the berry patch drew the attention of police yesterday. The man tied up his Whirlwind and parked his pails while he went for a supply of eat-in' tobacco and folks in the vicinity had visions of the old Clayton county sport of horse stealin' and called the police. While they were investigating the berry picker returned with a cud in his jaw and satisfaction on his face. Untying his horse he mounted and with his pails that jingle, jangled, jingled rode merrily away.

It was a busy weekend for the coppers. They adjudicated three different family squabbles and poured oil on the troubled waters. From all investigations it seems the Old Crows had returned to Old Homestead's filled with Possum Hollow and proceeded to try a Sweepstakes at the Old Farm. But the copper's applied Southern Comfort and soon all was Peaceful Valley.

Several drunks sleeping in doorways, prowling around in a suspicious manner also gave the police something to do while a DuBois visitor pestered several merchants until he was tossed out of town. Westbound Ho!

Purses also figured in the duties of the cops. One woman lost hers in a local store. Missing it she went right back but failed to find it. Later it was found outside the doorway as empty as Hitler's

Gentlemen:—

I wish to correct an error appearing in Thursday's paper to the effect that Mr. Cornish was conducting the salvage drive here in town, on Saturday.

At present Mr. Cornish is not in town and the drive is being supervised by Star Scout Karl Grettenberger, Jr.

Truly yours,
Ora M. Grettenberger

Will you give the wire to him?

He can't telephone any old time. His days are pretty well filled.

Then comes night and he's off and he'd like to call home. But sometimes he can't do it—all circuits are busy.

Unless your call is urgent, won't you try to stay off the Long Distance wires from 7 P. M. to 10 P. M. and give him the break?

SCHOOL DAYS NEAR

An article on another page of this issue reminds that the public and parochial schools of the borough will be opening for the fall and winter term next week. Big brother soldiers and sailors have to take physical examinations to find out whether they are fit to fight. If they've got some little thing the matter with them the Army, Navy or Marine Corps doctors find it out and get it fixed. When it's done, either they can fight or do something very useful at home.

Children, too, should have their doctors, dentists and oculists look them over before school begins. If they need different food, or little holes filled in teeth, the better to bite food with, or a pair of strangely comfortable glasses, the better to see books and blackboards, other playing children and good little apples on trees with, the improvement can be quickly made. How much better a young school-soldier feels when he hasn't any toothache and his eyes aren't all crunched up with every effort to see, when he's full of pep from the right food instead of dull and not caring much about anything!

After physical exams at camp comes G.I.—the uniforms. Children cannot have everything new this year, but one or two new things feel good. Socks or sweater, maybe. New shoes are wonderful, but if No. 18's gone, old shoes can be repaired and given a special shine.

Get yourselves in good shape, young fighters. American fighting men are best because they use their heads. School teaches you how to use yours. Get set!

DICTATOR KING IS DEAD

A grave politico-military problem for the Hitlerian regime in Europe is the situation in the Balkans, with Bulgaria, its buffer state against the unpredictable Turks and one of his chief bulwarks against an assault by the United Nations upon the peninsula, tottering loyalty, since the mysterious death of its dictator King Boris. Pro-German Premier Philov apparently is trying to hold the fort for Hitler, but his chances of success do not seem good as things stand at present.

As virtually absolute monarch, King Boris carried his people into the war on the side of the Axis. He probably was impelled to do this because of Germany's powerful influence in the Balkan peninsula, because he thought the Reich was likely to win and bestow favors on Bulgaria, and because he was son-in-law of the king of Italy.

However, the Bulgarian people followed Boris into the war on the side of the Axis reluctantly. They are largely anti-German and are very pro-Russian, because of the Slavic affinity. He who tries to make them fight further for Hitler is inviting trouble.

Perhaps the king lost his life because he finally recognized the futility of trying to force his subjects to give further support to the Nazis. The world has not been informed as to how he died, but there are all sorts of reports going the rounds and it may be time will disclose that he was assassinated on Nazi orders because he told Hitler in their recent conference that the game was up.

RECEIVED AND FILED

Have you read your copy of the agriculture handbook now available from the Census Bureau, with "Descriptions and Illustrations of the Uses of Agriculture Census Statistics in Education, Business, Research and Visual Analysis; with Explanations of the Technique of Tabulation and Procedures," based upon the 16th census, taken in 1940?

It contains 244½ printed pages plus 3½ of white space for doodling. Each page is 9 by 11½ inch. The numbered pages are preceded by four others designated by neat Roman numerals. There is a four-page insert in three colors on higher grade paper. Page after page is covered with pictures, charts, graphs, tabulations, maps.

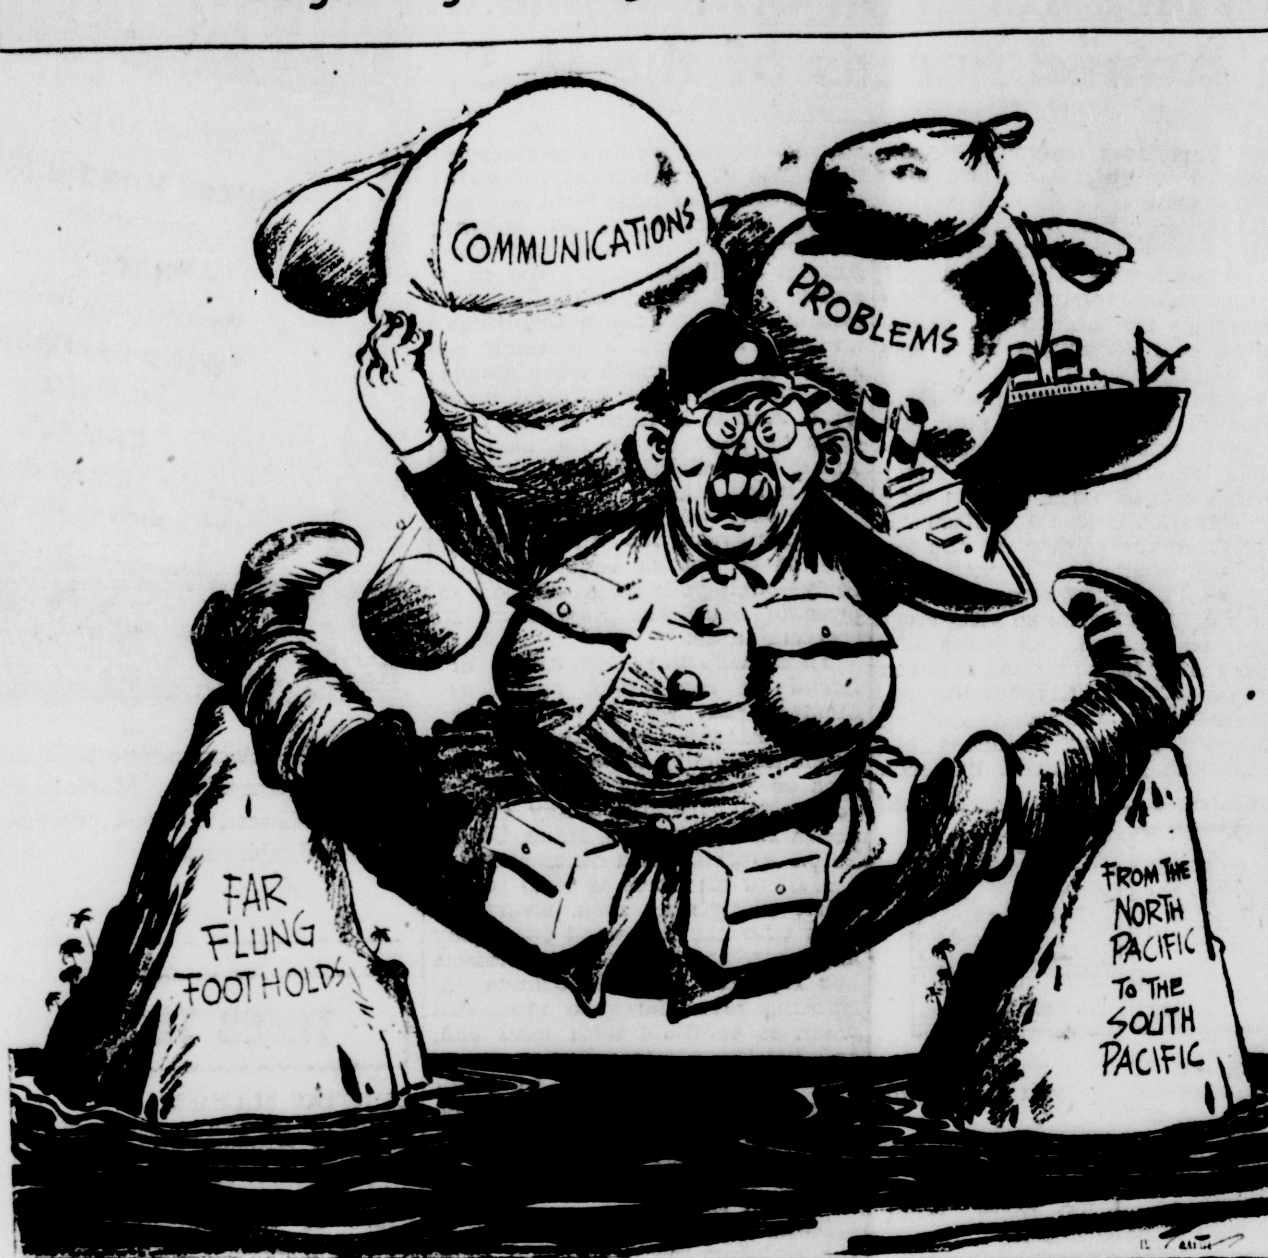

Our copy has been received, and is filed in the section headed "Shortages" with cross-references to "White Paper," "Metals," "Manpower" and "Good Judgment."

BUSINESS BLACKMAIL

Small manufacturers are being forced to absorb the 20 per cent withholding tax in order to retain their workmen. This, of course, constitutes a wage increase of equivalent amount, which itself is legally subject to further withholding tax, of which the government is being defrauded.

The practice is undoubtedly illegal. It is economically unsound because most small firms cannot stand such a drain. It is fiscally unsound because it contributes to inflation, defeating the very purpose of the taxing method. It is, as the American Business Congress says, business blackmail.

Washington in Wartime

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—The Office of War Information has come in for a lot of criticism lately and if Elmer Davis's gray hair is getting grayer, there's a good reason for it.

Trouble doubled for OWI on the Quebec conference between Churchill and President Roosevelt. The quota of newspaper men and women was limited and OWI had to use everything in the book of journalistic etiquette and diplomacy to keep from being thoroughly blackballed by that portion of the working press that wanted to get in the show and couldn't.

None of it was OWI's fault except where it might occasionally have stubbed its diplomatic toes in the handling of this or that detail.

The simple fact is that Canada would have been happy to take over the whole show. Certain White House and OWI press representatives here stepped in. The result was that Canada agreed to be host to 50 accredited U. S. newsmen and women; 50 more from Canada; and 25 from other United Kingdom nations and the other countries in the United Nations alliance.

That didn't really bar anybody from coming to Quebec for the sessions. It merely meant that the U. S. correspondents who would have accommodations and credentials as guests of the Canadian government would be limited to 50.

The listing of these 50 was used into OWI's lap. OWI didn't want it. But like a good soldier, it did its best to obey the order.

LOOK at the agencies who were interested. First, there was the Army, which, being responsible for many things, wanted the newsmen and women "accredited for foreign service." If the Army blocked any one on that score, I haven't heard of it yet. Then there was the White House. Its only limitation was that members of the press corps going should be accredited to the White House. Most of the press already is.

After that came the "safety" gear—the State department, which wanted to be sure that nothing went wrong diplomatically, and the FBI, Secret Service, Scotland Yard, the Royal Canadian Mounted and Lord only knows how many local peace officers here, there and en route, who had to be sure that nothing went wrong with the show in any way.

AS for OWI service, take the case of Sigrid Arne, Associated Press special staff writer. Miss Arne merely called OWI and told them she had been ordered to report in Quebec, although the quota already was full. The answer was this: "As soon as we get your clearance, Miss Arne, it came through the next morning, we'll call Quebec and make your hotel reservations and while we are at it, we'll get one of the women on the phone and find out whether you need summer or woolsen clothes."

If that isn't service, it'll do until OWI comes along again.

Hollywood Gossip

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—The other day I sat down to lunch with a soulful corporation, new in Hollywood.

It goes by the name of Producers Corporation of America, and its pictures will go out through United Artists. But when PCA came in to lunch, it looked like Sig Schlager and Harry Joe Brown.

Harry Joe Brown is the producer. Sig Schlager is the fellow who rounded up the bankroll, the scripts, and—armed with same—the producer. Brown is a chubby, quiet little man who is (said Schlager) too modest to talk about himself.

"You oughtn't to be here—I'm going to talk about you, Harry," said Schlager, who is ebullient and not at all shy. A former newspaper man, later a movie press agent, later a movie talent agent or 10 per center, Sig never had training in shyness.

HARRY JOE grinned amiably, and let Sig talk about Harry Joe, PCA, and its scripts. First, about how a movie corporation is born, which was what I wanted to know.

"I wanted to get into production," said Sig, "and I had a property—'Knickerbocker Holiday,' the musical by Maxwell Anderson and Kurt Weill. I wanted to get Harry Joe as producer. He'd been turning out hits for 20th Century-Fox, but he was tired of it and wanted a rest. Here was a fellow with a fine artistic urge good-naturedly forgetting it and fitting his talents into a groove for other people. In a company like ours, Harry Joe can really express himself. In the major studios a producer can't do that, because there are too many supervisors."

With "Knickerbocker Holiday" and independence (to cut it short) Sig lured Harry Joe away from rest. With both he promoted the bankroll, and now PCA is an eager infant, ready to start kicking.

HARRY JOE (said Sig) saw in "Knickerbocker Holiday" not merely a period musical (it's set in the days of Peter Stuyvesant in old New York) but a symbol of "the American spirit struggling for the first time to express itself." It's to be a patriotic picture—without flag-waving, without a battle scene, with singing, laughing, dancing, and nobody getting serious, but the theme shining clear.

"You take away the music and the comedy," put in Harry Joe, "and you still have a story. I like that."

So we went on to another picture planned, Mark Twain's "The Mysterious Stranger." This is the posthumously published story in which Mark Twain practically gave up hope for the human race—an odd piece for an optimistic screen to handle.

Ah, but (said Sig) Mark Twain's daughter (Clara Clemens Gabrieltown) is adapting it for the screen, and she has letters from her father in which he declared that he had changed his mind about the philosophy earlier expressed in his story. "So our treatment," said Sig, "will reach conclusions exactly opposite to the philosophy of the original—it ought to create a sensation in the literary world."

Our Merchant Marine

Intercoastal Trade

Not all the 49ers went cross-country in wagon trains or sailed around Cape Horn.

The arduous trek overland was relieved in 1855 when a railroad line was cut across the Isthmus to connect the Atlantic and Pacific steamship lines. The opening of the Panama Canal was the foundation of our intercoastal trade. When World War II broke out, our coastal and intercoastal fleets comprised more than 50% of our merchant marine. The vessels were immediately available for war-time service when the national emergency arose.

Hot September Finish in National League Is Possible

Move Over, Pop.

Chester Joseph Leab, Jr., 3-4, tells daddy to get out of there and let someone really hit one in batting practice with St. Louis Browns.

Negotiations Under Way For Game Between Forge and Erie Gunners Here September 8th

Prospects of a game between the National League and the Erie Gunners at Wilder Field for the sectional championship developed over the weekend. Only the decision of the Exchange Club members of the Erie Gunners seems to be needed to make the contest a certainty. It is believed that this organization, which is playing its part in the war effort will sponsor the game and arrangements are being perfected to stage the attraction.

A challenge was received by Forge management from Mike Cannavino, manager of the crack Erie Gunners, and after consultation with Forge officials and players, it was decided to accept it, and if satisfactory arrangements can be made the game will be played September 8, at 5:30 o'clock at Wilder Field.

Incidentally this game will be for the northwestern Pennsylvania championship. The Gunners, naturally, will be rather steep and fans are asked to plan to buy tickets even if they are not able to attend, since the money will go to a good cause—such as the Civil Air Patrol, Bond Drive or some other branch of the war effort will be beneficiaries. It is expected that many tickets will be sold in all defense plants of Warren and vicinity and to clubs and merchants in the borough. Persons buying tickets will not only be aiding the ball team of National Forge but will be doing a share again and again by supporting the war effort.

More details on the meeting of the Exchange club and facts about the game will be found from day to day in the sport section of the Times-Mirror.

Incidentally, yesterday Forge players, for the first Sunday in some time, when it did not rain, were without a ball game, but plans to play two and possibly three this week are in the making and will be announced from time to time. If possible Forge will attempt to play on Wilder Field next Sunday. It is also planned to play one game at the State Hospital and possibly one at Kane during the week, to keep in condition to give the Gunners a good battle.

Famous Balloon Ball First Used By Honus Wagner 40 Years Ago

Pittsburgh, Aug. 30.—(P)—The famous balloon ball pitch of the Pirates' Rip Sewell had a grandpa, it developed today. It was thrown by the great Honus Wagner more than 40 years ago.

This new phase of Wagner's imperishable history was learned in a letter from Mrs. Muriel Clarke Sullivan, of New York, Okla., daughter of Fred Clarke, one-time Pittsburgh manager. She wrote: "Last night, mother and day were talking about an article on Sewell's balloon ball. I asked day about the pitch."

"He said that back in Louisville in 1898 or 1899 in a game with Boston, day had no relief pitcher and as a last resort he asked if anyone thought they could pitch."

"Wagner spoke up and said he could. Dad said Wagner went in and didn't allow a hit and Louisville won the game. The style of pitch that Wagner used, Dad said,

Scalise Wins From Goodwin

Leonard Scalise Saturday took the measure of "Curt" Goodwin in the local men's singles tourney still in progress on the Y. M. C. A. court. By this defeat of Goodwin, Scalise now enters the semi-final bracket to stack up against George Brown. The other semi-final match will be between Leon Jones and Frank Irvine.

Both of these matches brings together the four best tennis players in Warren at the present time. Who will be in the finals is pretty much of a guess but regardless of that it will be a match worth seeing no matter who plays it.

The weather has been against the tournament which should have been finished last week. However, this week will surely see it wind up and a borough champion crowned.

Good Scores Rolled On Opening Night at Penn Bowling Center

A large crowd took advantage of the cool weather Saturday evening to help launch the coming season at Penn Bowling Center, and rapped the maples for some nice scores.

Topping the ladies was Marian McDowell, with 183, and Ella Culbertson with 161, while the veteran Barney Malone started the season off with a 267 game.

Corry Has Better Team Than In 1942

Corry High promises to have a speedier and better team than they had in 1942 and a squad of 31 men with seven lettermen turned out for the first practice. All of them passed their physical tests and equipment has been issued to them. Coach Roland Putnam put the crew through its first workouts last week and they look good. The first impression gathered by Coach Putnam was that his first team will shape up better than last season, but the reserves run on the small side and are awfully green.

The boys were put through a long series of setting-up drills and conditioning exercises to remove the kinks from their muscles and then turned to kicking and passing. Some time was also devoted to blocking and practicing of a new backfield shift.

Coach Putnam received his first blow of the season when it was made known that Harry Phillips, a letterman from last year, would not be out for football as he plans to continue working. This development threw a monkey wrench into this season's plans as Phillips had been given the inside track to the snapper-back position and would have made it possible to shift Carmen Piccirillo from center to tackle. The only other letterman not present at the first practice was Bob Jackson, a half-back, but he is expected to report later this week.

Basic Training

FOR every child, early training should include building the habit of thrift. Today children see much money being spent—some wasted. They may get the idea that thrift is not important. The best answer is thrift education. Teach them the value of money and the importance of saving. Start a thrift account for your child now.

New School Head Arrives In Ludlow

Ludlow, Aug. 27—Lyle Carr, the new supervising principal for the Ludlow schools, together with Mrs. Carr and children Carroll, age 15, Frank, age 12 and Mary Belle, age 8, have arrived in Ludlow, and have taken residence in the home formerly occupied by Arthur Gray, on the Olmsted estate.

Prior to coming to Ludlow, Mr. Carr was supervising principal for the New Milford schools for the past 13 years. His home is in Crawford County, near Meadville, and he is a graduate of the Edinboro High school, and Bucknell University, graduating from that institution in 1923, and returning to obtain his masters degree in 1936.

Following his graduation he was an instructor in Springboro for one year, Lewisburg for three years, and the Sugar Valley Vocational school for a period of three years.

Mrs. Carr is a graduate of the Edinboro high school, Edinboro State Teachers College and obtained her Bachelor of Science and Education degree at Bucknell University in 1926. Mr. Carr has announced that the school term will open on Tuesday September 7th, and that the following new teachers have been added to the staff: Miss Thelma Peiper, graduate of the Edinboro State Teachers College, whose home is in Corry, and John Vincent Gaylor of Renovo, who is a graduate of St. Joseph's College at Lorain. Mrs. Carr will act as substitute teacher.

The complete staff of teachers will be as follows:

Miss Violet Swanson, Barbara Lewellyn, Thelma Peiper, Marie Johnson, Mary Catherine Mathers, Mary Catherine Maxwell, Catherine Bellucci, John Gaylor, and the new supervising principal, Substitute, Mrs. Lyle Carr. Caretaker, Alfred Swanson.

Size of the average family in North Carolina is 19 persons, the highest average in the United States.

STAR Quality

New Flavor Twist to This Star Ham Loaf

This delicious ham loaf can do double duty on the food front. For it's a grand-tasting hot dinner that's sure to make your family ask for ham more often. And if there's any left over, it will make a wonderful quick snack later on... or even a cold supper for tomorrow!

Get 1 lb. ground Star Ham Shank (not cooked) and ½ lb. ground lean pork. Armour's Star Ham Shank is a wise choice because it's mellowed in fragrant hickory smoke... is very tender and mild.

Crush one cup of corn flakes and mix in 1 tsp. brown sugar and ¼ tsp. cloves. Add ½ cup undiluted Armour's Evaporated Milk, 1 Cloverbloom egg, the ground meats and mix together well. Pack the mixture into a 2 lb. oil loaf pan and bake in 325° F. oven for 1½ hours. Serve it hot or cold with creamed or scalloped potatoes.

It's a big, delicious meat meal for 6 or 8 persons. And it tastes so good sliced cold... you'll probably try to save some for later on—if you can! Serve this Star Ham Loaf tonight!

VFW Auxiliary Is Planning Outing To Include Post

At the regular meeting of Dinsmoor-Schwinn Auxiliary, VFW, plans were completed for a picnic to be held jointly by post and auxiliary members on September 4. All were urged to attend, since it is one of the two times of the year when all members and their families are brought into one group.

The program will include games for young and old, music and picnic for everyone. Each one attending is asked to provide his own table service. Details of the arrangements will be announced in a later issue.

The auxiliary voted a contribution to the Salvation Army's local unit in response to a plea for funds to continue the war work of the Army.

Thank-you letters were read from a great many Warren county boys and girls who have recently received gifts. The fact that these mailings give such pleasure to those in service is an incentive to the auxiliary to continue its work in the endeavor which furnishes money for the distribution of the gifts. Again, all parents and relatives of men and women in service are urged to report to the VFW Service Bureau the names and addresses of the young people so that all may be on the mailing list.

The meeting was preceded by a highly successful tureen dinner. Original purpose of the dinner was for membership contest losers to entertain the winners, but the large attendance and plentiful food indicated a general interest in the dinner as a means of getting together for a pleasant social time.

FAREWELL PARTY HIGHLY ENJOYABLE

Friday evening at Cherry Grove Mr. and Mrs. Robert Allinger, of Oak street, were guests at a farewell party that was a happy event. Mr. Allinger has been serving as the supply pastor of the Cherry Grove Free Methodist congregation and next week will go to Pleasantville to the church conference to take up a pastorate in the church. Friday evening he and Mrs. Allinger were surprised by about 50 persons from Cherry Grove who presented them with a handsome gift and a purse of money. Mr. Allinger replied to the presentation remarks and evinced regret at leaving his work in Cherry Grove, but felt that he was entering a large field for good. During the time Mr. Allinger has been the supply at Cherry Grove he has added many to the congregation there and greatly enlarged the work.

Red Cross Work Notes

All VFW Auxiliary members are asked to be at Red Cross headquarters Tuesday afternoon to make surgical dressings.

OPEN HOUSE FOR MRS. SUSAN JERMAN

Mrs. Susan Jerman, who will be 95 years of age on Tuesday, will be honored guest with an "open house" from two until four o'clock, allowing her many friends in the community opportunity to greet her and extend best wishes.

CHILD CHRISTENED

Yesterday was an important event in the life of Mr. and Mrs. E. William Proukou, 107 Parker street, since it marked the christening of their small son, Spear Xenophon, named for his two grandfathers. The ceremony took place in St. Nicholas' Greek Orthodox church at Jamestown, N. Y., at 1:30 p. m., with Mrs. Charles Hondros, of Wilmington, Del., as godmother.

Mrs. Hondros, who will spend a month here at the Proukou home, was one of the guests who returned to Warren for dinner served in the private dining room of the Blue and White Restaurant. Other guests were the infant's grandmother, Mrs. Mary Gates, with Peter Gates, of Baltimore, Md.; an aunt Mrs. C. P. Spiridon, Sophie and Helen Spiridon, Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Scalise, Mrs. Robert Doolittle, and the baby's sister, Elizabeth Proukou, all of Warren.

SEEKERS CLASS

Seekers Class members of the First Evangelical church will meet at six o'clock tomorrow evening in the Folkman parlors of the church. Each one is asked to bring a tureen and sandwiches, the committee to provide the coffee. Hostesses will be Mrs. James Greer, Charles Aslake and a cordial invitation is given to all members and friends for the supper, devotions and business session to follow.

DALE AND BOWMAN WEDDING AT ANGOLA

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne A. Dale, who were wed in Angola, N. Y., on August 21 and have been to Detroit, Mich., by boat for a wedding trip, were in Warren for a brief visit before going on to their home in Angola. Mr. Dale, formerly of Warren, is employed at that place now and his wife, the former Hazel M. Bowman, is a member of the Angola schools faculty.

EPWORTH WSCS

Mrs. John Walters, who attended the annual Missionary Day program at Chautauque Institution last Wednesday, will report on the events at the meeting of the Epworth Methodist WSCS to be held at the church at eight o'clock tomorrow evening.

NORWAY—Is Liberation Near?

For 3½ heroic years the 3,000,000 people of mountainous Norway have suffered and starved under Nazi occupation, occasionally rising up to strike a telling blow against their oppressors. Now their day of liberation may be near, for signs point to a continental invasion by Allied forces and German outposts in Norway are likely targets. Map shows the 1000-mile coastline along which American, Canadian, British and Free Norwegian forces might strike in clearing the North Atlantic of this Nazi base before launching invasions farther south in Europe.
